THIRD SUNDAY of Year A - 22nd January 2017.

Gospel Reflection: Jesus devoted his public ministry to preaching about the nearness of the kingdom of heaven and to inviting people to become his disciples. His lifestyle was guided completely by God's will and he challenged his listeners to accept God's will in their lives by rejecting sin and being faithful to his teaching.

As we reflect on Jesus' preaching, his most important message is repentance for our sins. In other words, Jesus challenges us to turn away from the darkness of sin so that we can live in the light of God's loving presence. Sin alienates us from the kingdom of heaven. Repentance demands humility and a fundamental change of heart. Otherwise we cannot truly be Jesus' disciples. Central to repentance is genuine sorrow for our sins. Authentic sorrow is an outward manifestation of the inner journey of conversion. Unfortunately, however, we use the word 'sorry' so often and so carelessly that our sincerity is questionable. What, then, does it really mean to say 'I am sorry'?

To be sorry means to be sorrowful or saddened. Saying that we are sorry for having caused offence and hurt acknowledges that we are saddened because of the wrong that we have done and the hurt that we have caused.

Significantly, we are saddened not only because we have offended God or hurt another person but also because we have diminished our own dignity as people made in the image and likeness of God.

If we have no sense of the harm that we have caused when we say that we are sorry, or if we have no intention of changing our behaviour in the future, then our sorrow is insincere because it is incomplete. We cannot claim to be motivated and guided by God's will if we are not repentant disciples.

When we celebrate the sacrament of reconciliation sincerely, by confessing our sins and being sorry for them, we demonstrate that we are humble and repentant. We express sorrow for Our sins, knowing that God forgives us as we are absolved from Our sins. God also gives us the grace and strength to resist temptation and avoid sin. Then our sorrow turns into joy. Are there any occasions when we are saddened by what we have said or done to another person? Is it easy for us to say 'Sorry', or is it difficult for us to do? Valuing and appreciating forgiveness requires sorrow. We have the opportunity of celebrating God's forgiveness sacramentally by going to confession and acknowledging our sorrow.

Repentance is central to our lives as Jesus' disciples. Therefore, let our prayer be: Lord God, teach us to be repentant. Encourage us to change our minds and to soften our hardened hearts whenever we offend you and hurt other people.

HOLOCAUST MEMORIAL DAY – FRIDAY 27TH JANUARY 2017 This memorial is commemorated across the UK . It is our opportunity to stand in solidarity with the victims of genocide and to make a clear statement that genocide is evil and that it should not be tolerated under any circumstances whatsoever. Unfortunately, genocide happens when ordinary people fail to stand up and be counted. When Pope Francis visited the Jewish community at the Rome synagogue last year, he commented: “The Jewish People, in its history, was subjected to violence and persecution, culminating in the extermination of Jews in Europe during the Holocaust. Six million people, for the sole fact of being members of the Jewish People, fell victim to the most inhuman barbarity, perpetrated in the name of an ideology that sought to substitute God with man. “The past must serve as a lesson to us in the present and in the future. The Holocaust teaches us to always maintain the highest level of vigilance, in order to be able to intervene immediately in defence of Human dignity and peace.”
